Fairway information on Coronavirus

The dedicated team at Fairway would like to thank residents, relatives, friends, employees and the community for their ongoing support. Fairway is taking every measure to preserve the health and wellness of residents, staff and visitors.

Due to an increased spread of COVID-19 in Melbourne, we will be closing Fairway to visitors until further notice.

We know this is hard for residents and their loved ones but this is an important step in protecting the health and safety of our residents and employees.

There will be some compassionate exceptions made for visitors (including for residents who are receiving end stage palliative care), so we encourage you to contact Fairway to discuss your specific circumstances.

In recent months, we've purchased extra iPads and laptops so our team can continue to arrange video calls.

Our team will keep running activities to ensure that daily life continues as normally as possible for residents and that their health and wellbeing is maintained.

All employees and external clinical workers attending Fairway will continue to follow strict health disclosure rules, safety precautions and temperature checks.

This decision has been a really challenging one to make, and we appreciate the ongoing patience, support and understanding of residents and their loved ones as we work through this together.

New flu vaccine requirement

From 1 May all visitors and employees must provide proof of a current flu vaccination before they enter Fairway. Here's what you need to know.

In response to COVID-19 the Australian Department of Health have announced that from 1 May all aged care employees and visitors must have received a flu vaccination in the current year before entering a residential aged care home.

This is part of the Australian Government's suite of efforts to help protect heightened demands on the healthcare system and people's access to vital treatment.
